

MANNOL Getriebeöl Leak-Stop 9968

MANNOL Getriebeöl Leak-Stop is a special additive to gear oil that excludes leaking seals and hardened rubber gaskets in manual transmissions. It contains special components that restore the original shape and the elasticity of the seals. It can be used prophylactically in order to slow down the aging process and the wear of the seals. This product is compatible with any gear oil designed for manual transmissions.

Add to the gearbox, bevel gear housing and drive transfer box. The content of the bottle is enough for 4-5 liters of gear oil. Before applying the additive you need to pre-heat transmission to operating temperature.
